To whom it may concern:

This is in further response to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request of August 12, 2017, requesting documents relating to the biological weapons spraying of innocent people in St. Louis, Missouri. "This is a violation of all medical ethics, all international codes/military's own policy at that time". This request was received in our office on August 21, 2017.

To determine the existence of Army intelligence investigative files, a check was made of the automated Defense Central Index of Investigations (DCII). This index reflects the holdings of all investigative elements within the Department of Defense. The results of the DCII check disclosed no record of any Army intelligence investigative file pertaining to your request.

This no record response is made on behalf of Major General Christopher S. Ballard, Commander, U.S. Army Intelligence and Security Command, who is the Initial Denial Authority for Army intelligence investigative and security records under the FOIA and may be appealed to the Secretary of the Army. If you decide to appeal at this time, your appeal must be post marked no later than 90 calendar days from the date of our letter. After the 90-day period, the case may be considered closed; however, such closure does not preclude you from filing litigation in the courts. You should state the basis for your disagreement with the response and you should provide justification for an additional administrative search to be conducted or reconsideration of the denial. An appeal may not serve as a request for additional or new information. An appeal may only address information denied in this response. Your appeal is to be made to this office to the below listed address for forwarding, as appropriate, to the Secretary of the Army, Office of the General Counsel.
